Have you ever wondered why so much information is required on the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) application? Or have you wondered how much detail to provide? Do portions of the application confuse or stump you? If so, this workshop is for you!

The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) Water Bureau is pleased to host the NPDES Permit Application Workshop. This event is intended for permittees and their designated representatives whose applications are due on or before April 4, 2009 or April 4, 2010. Others may attend on a space-available basis.

Highlights of the workshop include a review of application changes and section-by-section tips on completing the application. The workshop concludes with a networking session designed to put you face-to-face with program experts who can assist you with your permit application and other NPDES concerns.

Space is limited, so register today!
